HOME OF THE TERPS

Maryland's student activities building and home of Terrapin Athletics was completed in fall 2002 and is the home of Maryland volleyball.

In the short time the Terrapins have called Comcast Center Pavilion home, it has already seen its share of historic moments. The Terps updended then-No. 4 Georgia Tech, 3-2, on Nov. 1, 2003 for the biggest upset in program history. And when ACC Champion Maryland earned an automatic berth to the NCAA Tournament, Comcast Center was selected as a host site.

The Comcast Center houses the university's athletics administration offices and includes a 7,000-square-foot Academic Support Center, providing an enhanced study atmosphere for the school's nearly 700 student-athletes on 27 teams. In addition to the 17,950-seat basketball arena, the additional 1,500-seat venue is home to the Terps' volleyball, gymnastics and wrestling teams, and the Nextel Heritage Hall multi-purpose room (capacity 400) is equipped to host banquets, news conferences, large meetings and serve as a pregame restaurant suite overlooking the competition floor.

The new arena is an excellent place for alumni and fans to enjoy their favorite sports and share their common Terrapin spirit. Visitors learn about the men and women who have made Maryland Athletics great as they stroll through the dramatic Terrapin Walk of Fame and History. And the Terrapin Team Store, located just off the soaring three-level atrium lobby, allows visitors to outfit their pride. Maryland has reclaimed the status of having the best student activities center and athletics home in the country.

2006 SEASON OUTLOOK

TERRAPINS LOOKING FOR FOURTH STRAIGHT NCAA BID.

As three-time ACC defending champions with three consecutive NCAA appearances, the goals of the Terrapin volleyball program would seemingly have been met. That said, while winning the conference title is always a goal, Maryland head coach Janice Kruger's chief objective is to advance as far as possible in the NCAA Tournament.

Aside from the team's accomplishments, Kruger recognizes that the competition in the league is unyielding and the adaptation that occurs each year with a different team poses new challenges. Her philosophy and goals have resonated with the players. After having built and maintained an exceptional level of play in recent years, the veterans have established standards – well-understood standards of what is expected in the program.

To this end, Coach Kruger has instilled an atmosphere in the Terrapin program conducive to the goals. The team is comprised of athletes that have an unrelenting commitment to the sport – to strive to be better to perform in conference play and in non-conference matchups. The 2006 team possesses that talent to enable them to reach their goals.

"We're excited about the new season - integrating a group of young, developing middle blockers with our experienced outside hitters and setters. It's a fun and challenging period for the team," said Kruger.

After winning the ACC Tournament Championships in 2003 and 2004, the league's new format of a double-round robin in the regular season brought new demands on the team. Undeterred, the Terps were atop the standings, capturing a share of the ACC title in 2005.

The challenge for the Terps this season is this - will they be able to sustain this level of play and continue to be a leader in the league?

Indeed the league is changing.

The Terps, selected to finish fifth in the ACC preseason poll, are undaunted. Junior power-hitter Jade Brown will be looked upon to utilize her athleticism and blocking ability for Maryland. Central to the Terrapin offense are returning starters Beth Gillming and Maggie Schmelzle, two all-around players with extraordinary passing and hitting skill.

"The league is maturing. A lot of players have gained significant experience," Kruger remarked. "We like the double-round robin format and the opportunity to make each match a championship match. We like the intensity it brings. We're looking forward to competing for the championship in the ACC."

OUTSIDE HITTERS

The key strength of the Terrapins in 2006 is the solid core of outside hitters, on both the right side and the left sides. The varying players form a combination of exceptional athletic ability, sounds skills and collegiate experience.

Brown is an explosive athlete with a strong arm and a fierce attack. The Atlanta native is a three-time All-ACC selection, including a 2006 preseason All-ACC pick, who made an immediate impact her freshman season. As a sophomore in 2005, Brown led the team in total attacks, recorded 397 kills for a 3.25 kill per game average and posted 87 blocks.

Also on the right side is junior team captain Beth Gillming, who was named to the 2006 All-ACC preseason team. Gillming possesses tremendous skill and aptitude on the court matched with an unwavering determination. As one of the team's most balanced players, she displayed her potent offense last season collecting 280 kills, 62 blocks and 348 digs.

At 6-3, junior Mary Beth Brown gained considerable experience in her last two seasons. Brown will be a significant part of Maryland's offensive arsenal and is an effective presence on defense as she is the teams blocks leader among the returners.

Sophomore Maggie Schmelzle emerged on the squad as one of the team's most consistent and dominant players in 2005. Schmelzle registered the most double-doubles for the team, notching 430 digs (3.52 dpg) and 334 kills (2.74 kpg) in her inaugural season. She was named to the All-ACC Freshman team for her efforts.

Though she was out most of the 2005 season with an injury, Tina Aramburu has developed each year in the program and has worked hard to make an impact this year. She will be another asset for the Terp rotation.

"We have a lot of go-to players on the outside," Kruger said. "It gives the setters a lot of options to distribute the ball evenly."

SETTERS

Fundamental to the Terps' potent offense last season was the implementation of the 6-2 offense. Two returning starters – senior captain Teryn Papp and sophomore Tedi Doucet – will assume the key positions again in 2006.

Papp recorded a team-high 850 assists (7.01 a/g), while Doucet notched 721 assists (5.91 a/g) and a single-match high seven service aces last season.

"We'll draw on the setters' ability and experience to help orchestrate the offense, compete as a strong unit and demonstrate strong leadership on the court," stated Kruger.

This season, the Terps also have a talented freshman, Hayley Hanson, at setter with a sound understanding of the game as she enters the collegiate level.

Kruger noted, "Hanson is a good passer, possesses solid ball-control, and is especially aggressive which will be a huge asset on defense for us."

MIDDLE BLOCKERS

While the Terrapin program has been noted for its dominant blocking and hitting ability, the most significant losses to graduation were the dynamic pair of Rachel Wagener and Stephanie Smith. Both players broke numerous records during their careers as Terps.

"We've had some significant success with dominant middle blockers and, in a way, have almost grown accustomed to having strong players in the middle," said Kruger. "It's always an expectation of these new players to perform well in the middle – the middle blocker is an important linchpin in the team system."

In 2006, the Terrapin middle blockers will be poised to foray their "middle mentality" to lead and become a factor to help the offense work well.

This season, the middle blockers are fairly young, but have attributes to build upon. Maryland has sheer physical size. Both Meredith Doyle at 6-5 and Kathleen Wilson will be instrumental to Maryland's offensive strategy.

"Meredith has a unique ability to hit at a high point, we'll look to utilize that a lot in 2006," remarked Kruger. "Kathleen has worked hard in the off-season to hone her skills."

MEREDITH DOYLE

Adding to the middle blocker rotation is newcomer Katie Usher. At 6-3, Usher possesses a quality similar to other Terrapin newcomers – they have considerable experience playing the big roles for their high school and club teams which will only help them adapt to the collegiate game.

"Katie has great size, agility and a quick attack," said Kruger. "Her development will put her in a great position to challenge for time in the middle."

LIBERO

The Terps will likely have a new face in the libero position. Beth Gillming was a key performer in the slot in 2004 posting an ACC Tournament record 87 digs over four matches that season.

Last season, senior Stephanie Doiron was a pivotal player for the Terps as the primary defensive specialist. In that role, she catapulted to become Maryland's single-season record holder with 546 digs.

The Terrapins have players with great potential and ability in the libero position. Maryland freshman and Rockville, Md. native Christina Paul is an option for the Terps, as well. She has shown tremendous promise as a player and will add depth defensively.

SCHEDULE

The schedule is specific and purposeful as the Terps face six teams that advanced to the NCAA Tournament in 2005. Both UCLA and Ohio advanced to the NCAA regionals, while traditional ACC-rival Duke fell in the second round to Nebraska. The substance of the season are the home and away ACC matchups, similar to the 2005 season, in which the conference champion is determined by the final regular-season conference record.

The Terps start the season on the road at the Indiana University Invitational (Sept. 1-2) and at the Stony Brook University Invitational (Sept. 8-9) before kicking off at home in the Hilton Garden Inn Greenbelt Invitational at Comcast Center (Sept. 15-16), hosting Long Island, Florida International and UCLA.

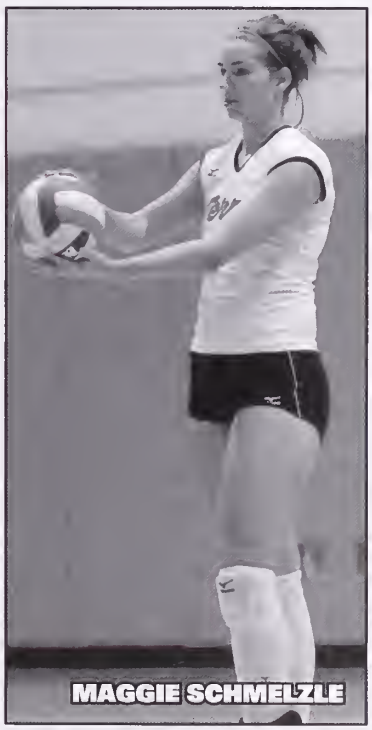
"Our regular season tournament schedule is very challenging. We're seeing strong teams and we'll get an opportunity to adjust our strategy by the time we begin ACC play," stated Kruger. "It will get us ready for the core of the season."

The ACC portion of the schedule begins with a matchup in the sunshine state against Florida State and Miami (Sept. 22-24), followed by the Terps' first ACC contest in College Park against Virginia Tech (Sept. 29) and Virginia (Sept. 30), rounded out by a Tuesday contest in Chestnut Hill against Boston College (Oct. 3).

Maryland hosts Georgia Tech and Clemson (Oct. 6-8) before going on a four-game road swing in the state of North Carolina. The Terps face Duke and Wake Forest (Oct. 12-13) and return to the Tobacco Road to take on the Tar Heels and the Wolfpack (Oct. 20-21).

The second half of the ACC schedule begins again with Miami and Florida State visiting College Park (Oct. 27-29). The Terps head to Virginia for contests against the Cavaliers (Nov. 3) and the Hokies (Nov. 4), followed by three home matchups against the Eagles (Nov. 7), the Blue Devils (Nov. 10) and the Demon Deacons (Nov. 12).

The last road games are played against the Tigers of Clemson (Nov. 17) and the Yellow Jackets (Nov. 18). The final home stretch features the Wolfpack (Nov. 24) and a season-ending rematch against the Tar Heels (Nov. 25).



MAGGIE SCHMELZLE

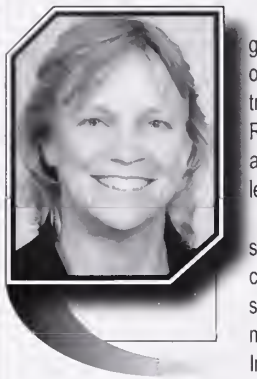
The 2006 Terrapin team prides itself on just that – being a true team.

Coach Kruger notices it in her players, "I can see they are looking forward to competing. Each match raises their level of individual and team performance on the court."

"We're a true team. Even though we're made up of so many different individuals, our common thread is that we've developed as a team," continued Kruger. "They understand the standard of what is expected in the Terrapin program and are ready to compete."

HEAD COACH JANICE KRUGER

19TH SEASON AT MARYLAND • 29TH SEASON OVERALL
NEBRASKA '77



Maryland volleyball head coach Janice Kruger's career accomplishments have reached another apex in recent years: five ACC titles, seven trips to the NCAA Tournament, five ACC and AVCA Region Coach of the Year honors and the top spot among all-time winningest coaches in ACC Volleyball history.

The 2005 season marked two significant milestones for Kruger. First, she surpassed the 700 career-victory mark after the third game of the season and reached her 350th ACC victory in the match over Kentucky in the NCAA Tournament. In addition, the Terrapins were undefeated in the Comcast Center posting a 14-0 record as well as winning 14 consecutive matches to start the season, another Maryland record.

In the last three years of the Terrapin program, Kruger holds an impressive .723 overall winning percentage. After winning the ACC Championship Title in 2004 with an 18-15 season record, the Terps improved to 28-5 in 2005 to win their third-consecutive ACC Championship and advanced to the second round of the NCAA Tournament for the third straight year. Maryland eased past Kentucky in the first round of the 2005 NCAA's, yet fell in a close contest to Louisville.

The AVCA named her East Region Coach of the Year in 2005, Kruger's fifth time to receive the award. In 2003, she was named the Atlantic Coast Conference Coach of the Year after leading Maryland to the ACC Championship. She became the ACC's all-time winningest coach that year and now, heading into the 2006 season, ranks first in conference history with 350 victories at Maryland.

After nearly two decades as one of the top coaches in the ACC, Kruger is set to embark on her 19th season as head coach of the Terrapins. With 725 career victories, Kruger has built a powerful program in College Park that includes ACC titles in 1990, 1996, 2003, 2004, 2005 and trips to the NCAA Tournament in 1990, 1995, 1996, 1997, 2003, 2004 and 2005. Kruger's success has not gone without notice, as she has been named both the ACC and AVCA District/Region Coach of the Year in 1990, 1996, 1997, 2003 and 2005. During her coaching career, Kruger has amassed an amazing 725-323-6 mark, including a stellar 350-218 record in College Park.

With an impressive track record at both Maryland and her previous school, Nebraska-Omaha, Kruger is considered one of the elite coaches in the country. She ranks seventh all-time among current coaches in victories as a four-year college head coach with 674.

In 2002, Kruger guided the Terps to an 11-0 start, the longest win streak to begin a season in Maryland history at that point. In 2001, she led Maryland to its 700th win as a volleyball program on Oct. 7 n a 3-1 victory over NC State at Ritchie Coliseum. In 32 seasons of volleyball at Maryland, just two coaches, Kruger and Barb Drum, have guided the Terps to a remarkable record of 807-444 (.645 winning percentage.)

In 1996, Kruger's Terps became the first ACC team to finish a conference schedule 16-0. Maryland closed that magical season by winning the ACC title for the first time in six years. One year later, Kruger led Maryland to an even more impressive feat, as the Terps completed the 1997 regular season with an overall record of 25-0. In the process, Maryland became just the eighth team in the nation to roll through the regular season without a defeat. The Terps finished that historic year by reaching the NCAA Tournament for the third consecutive year.

Under Kruger's guidance, many players have flourished in the Maryland program. In 1997, Eden Kroeger became the first Terp to earn All-American honors. That same year, Kroeger also became the third player during Kruger's tenure to earn ACC Player of the Year honors (Colleen Hurley in 1990 and Duane Koester in 1992 are the others.)

In 2005, four Terrapins garnered All-ACC honors (Rachel Wagener, first team; Stephanie Smith, first team; Jade Brown, second team, Maggie Schmelzle, freshmen team). Further, Wagener and Smith were named AVCA Honorable Mentions, while Smith, Stephanie Doiron and Beth Gillming received All-ACC Academic honors.

Last season also brought accolades to Kruger's players. Both Wagener and Smith were named All-ACC

Since Kruger came to Maryland in 1988, the Terps have had 27 All-ACC selections and 15 All-District selections.

What has made Kruger's program at Maryland all the more impressive is the emphasis put on academic excellence. Since 1988, nearly 50 players have been named to the ACC Honor Roll at least once during their careers at Maryland, including ACC Players of the Year Hurley, Koester, and Kroeger. A Maryland volleyball player has received the prestigious Weaver-James-Corrigan Scholar-Athlete Award from the Atlantic Coast Conference four times. Shannon Saltzman earned the award in 1997, Eden Kroeger was honored in 1998, Beth Murphy earned the impressive award in 1999, and Kathy Shahrokh most recently won it in 2004. On the national level, Kroeger, Nicole Lantagne (1995) and Aimee Huddleston (2004) have earned Co-SIDA Academic All-American honors, while Saltzman has been named both a USA All-America Scholar and a Collegiate All-America Scholar.

Prior to her arrival at Maryland, Kruger was the head coach at Nebraska-Omaha from 1979-87. In her nine seasons, she attained a sparkling record of 352-96-6 (.783) and led her squad to the NCAA Division II Final Four appearances in 1983, 1985, 1986 and 1987, as well as five consecutive North Central Conference championships from 1983-87. Twice during her career at Nebraska-Omaha, Kruger was named the AVCA Division II National Coach of the Year (1983 and 1986.)

In 1978, Kruger took over as head coach at Platte Technical Community College in Columbus, Neb., where she led her team to a 23-9 record and a spot in the national junior college tournament. One year later, she became head coach at Nebraska-Omaha.

Kruger earned her bachelor's degree in 1977 from the University of Nebraska, where she was a four-year letterwinner and captain of the Husker volleyball team. The following year, she earned her master's degree in athletic administration from Nebraska.

FELIX HOU

ASSISTANT COACH
EIGHTH YEAR AT MARYLAND
SHANGHAI PHYSICAL EDUCATION INSTITUTE '86

After four years as head coach at UMBC, Felix Hou returned to Maryland in 2003 as an assistant to the team that he helped lead to a perfect 25-0 record in 1997. Hou, who coached with the Terps from 1995-98, brings a wealth of knowledge on volleyball and 18 years of coaching experience at the university, club and national levels. During his four years at Maryland in the 1990s, the team was 89-32, winning the ACC Championship once and making three consecutive trips to the NCAA Tournament. With Hou's help, the Terrapins have captured three ACC Championship titles and earned three NCAA Tournament berths.

While at UMBC, Hou was named the 2000 Northeast Conference Coach of the Year after leading the Retrievers to a 19-13 record and a regular-season NEC Championship that year.

Prior to his arrival at Maryland in 1995, Hou spent two years as the assistant coach for the Yohan women's volleyball professional team in Hong Kong, as well as the coach for Iceland's national team, and the men's and women's teams at Iceland University. Before moving to Iceland, he coached the Chinese national women's youth team, and the Beijing women's team. As a coach, Hou has delivered seven players to the Chinese National Team, and six to the Iceland National Team.

As a player, Hou played seven years for the Chinese National Team, missing the 1980 Olympic Games because of the country's boycott. The 1980 Chinese team recorded an undefeated record in world competition.

Hou earned a bachelor's degree in coaching management from Shanghai Physical Education Institute in 1986. He has two daughters, Lucy and Mary.

"STRIVE FOR CLARITY, BUT ACCEPT AND UNDERSTAND AMBIGUITY."

That phrase captures one way in which an educated person approaches the world and its challenges. Students who graduate from the University of Maryland have been exposed to the tools that allow them to put that perspective to work. Imparting such a perspective may be an ambitious project for undergraduate education, but to aim for anything less would be unworthy of a great university's goals for its students. Thirteen years ago, Promises to Keep, a plan for undergraduate education at Maryland, articulated those goals so eloquently we repeat them here.

Undergraduate education at Maryland "aims to provide students with a sense of identity and purpose, a concern for others, a sense of responsibility for the quality of life around them, a continuing eagerness for knowledge and understanding, and a foundation for a lifetime of personal enrichment."

As we learn with and from one another, we try to "develop human values," "celebrate tolerance and fairness," "contribute to the social conscience," "monitor and assess private and collective assumptions," and "recognize the glory, tragedy and humor of the human condition." Your years at the University of Maryland can provide you with all the tools you need to accomplish these goals. Students here are "educated to be able to read with perception and pleasure, write and speak with clarity and verve, handle numbers and computation proficiently, reason mathematically, generate clear questions and find probable arguments, reach substantiated conclusions and accept ambiguity."

AND WE ALSO HOPE YOU ENJOY THE JOURNEY.

2006 MARYLAND VOLLEYBALL

THE UNIVERSITY OF MARYLAND

THE CAMPUS

By virtually every measure of quality, the University of Maryland has gained national recognition as one of the fastest-rising comprehensive research institutions in the country. The momentum of recent years has poised the university to move it into the top ranks of higher education and take leadership in shaping the research university of the 21st century.

The university has enjoyed a decade of momentum in all of the areas that affect quality. The average high school GPA of entering students has zoomed from 3.01 to nearly 3.90, and the average SATs are now more than 1270. The student body is a model of diversity, with minorities making up more than 33 percent of all students, and at least one graduate and undergraduate student from every state in the nation.

The university has 79 graduate and undergraduate programs ranked in the Top 25 by U.S. News and World Report, up from just one program in 1991.

Sponsored research and outreach has nearly tripled in the same 10-year period, exceeding $350 million last year. Private giving also has increased, and the university last year concluded its first campaign by topping its $350 million goal by more than $100 million. Alumni Association membership has been growing at an average rate of 10 percent a year since 1992.

One of the largest research universities in the United States, Fall 2005 enrollment was 25,442 undergraduate and 9,927 graduate students. There are 94 undergraduate programs, 89 master's programs, 70 doctoral programs and one first professional degree program. More than 100 centers and institutes are engaged in research and outreach.

Faculty at the University of Maryland, in all fields of knowledge, are engaged at the highest levels of national and international concern. The university's location near the center of federal policy-making and international political and economic activity enables it to play an active role in research and analysis of public policy.

Maryland is one of 30 public universities in the prestigious 63-member Association of American Universities and the only public institution in the Maryland-D.C. area with membership in the nation's most distinguished honor society, Phi Beta Kappa.

DID YOU KNOW?

In 1991, Maryland had one program listed among Top 25 entrants in the U.S. News & World Report Rankings. Maryland now has 79 programs ranked among the nation's elite, and the university is ranked 18th nationally among public universities.

A report card published in Technology Review rated the top U.S. universities in their quest for intellectual property, commercial partners and profits. Johns Hopkins University and the University of Maryland (28th) were the Mid-Atlantic (Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, District of Columbia) schools to make the "campus patenting" top 50 list.

Black Issues In Higher Education ranked the university fourth nationally in bachelor's degrees earned by African-American students at traditionally white schools. Maryland ranks first in African-American undergraduate degrees in social sciences and history.

The Wall Street Journal ranked the Robert H. Smith School of Business No. 15 a mong the world's business schools. Maryland is the top-ranked school in the Mid-Atlantic region (Delaware, Maryland, District of Columbia, Virginia). The Financial Times of London ranked the Robert H. Smith School of Business No. 3 in value for money, No. 6 overall among U.S. public business schools and No. 12 in placement rate.

In the undergraduate program rankings released by U.S. News & World Report both the A. James Clark School of Engineering (No. 22) and the Robert H. Smith School of Business (No. 22) were ranked among the top 25.

DR. C.D. MOTE

UNIVERSITY PRESIDENT
CALIFORNIA '59
EIGHTH YEAR

As the 19th president of the University of Maryland, C. D. "Dan" Mote Jr. has presided since 1998 over a university that is claiming a well-earned position in the top echelon of research universities in the nation. An internationally-respected researcher and member of the National Academy of Engineering, Dr. Mote is Glenn L. Martin Institute Professor of Engineering. He serves on the Technology Council of Maryland, is co-chair of the Potomac Conference of the Greater Washington Board of Trade and heads its Technology Transfer Committee.

Under President Mote's leadership, Maryland has received national and international notice for innovative undergraduate education opportunities, high-impact research and academic programs, outstanding performing arts, and athletes and athletic teams competitive with the best in the nation.

"The future of the state depends on this university," says Mote. "It is the State of Maryland's most important asset." As president, Dan Mote has been determined to make that asset even greater by nourishing a culture of excellence and civility across the campus, strengthening the university's connections with its various stakeholders, building partnerships with State and national corporations and federal agencies and achieving distinction as an institution where discovery takes place every day and everywhere. The university's progress can be seen in all areas, from its nationally-ranked programs to its success in building external partnerships to its state-of-the-art facilities.

QUALITY PROGRAMS

Over the past decade, the quality of Maryland's programs and reputation has climbed steadily. In 2003, the University of Maryland moved up to 17th place among public universities in U.S. News & World Report rankings, up from 30th in 1998. We currently have 44 graduate and undergraduate programs and units ranked in the top 15 by U.S. News & World Report, up from 5 in 1995.

While our academic successes have spread across the board, the university has emerged as a true powerhouse in business, computer science, earth sciences, engineering, environmental policy, education and journalism. Maryland is one of only 10 public and private universities that have their programs in computer science, mathematics, physics, and engineering each ranked in the top 20. Our College of Education is ranked in the top 20 nationally and 5 of its programs are in the top 10.

ATHLETIC EXCELLENCE

Mote sees athletics as an integral part of the university experience. Indeed athletic success more often than not reflects academic success, he notes. For example, all four of the teams that played in the 2002 NCAA basketball Final Four, including Maryland, are members of the prestigious Association of American Universities, the organization that comprises the leading research and academic universities in North America. "That's no accident," Mote says. "Institutions that are committed to excellence tend to be excellent in every endeavor. Our successes in football, basketball, lacrosse and other sports reflects our culture of quality as much as our successes in engineering, business, education and journalism."

FACULTY STATURE

Dr. Mote believes a university's quality is built by its faculty, and under his leadership, Maryland continues to attract the best faculty available. The university recruited a Nobel Laureate in Physics in 2001 and three more Pulitzer Prize winners (to join three already on the faculty). More than 30 of our faculty are members of the national academies, the highest professional recognition attainable.

DEBORAH A. YOW

ATHLETICS DIRECTOR • 13TH YEAR AT MARYLAND

Deborah A. Yow is in the 13th year of her outstanding tenure as director of athletics at the University of Maryland, a tenure that has seen unprecedented success and achievement in Maryland athletics. Each year has brought steady and continued improvement and accomplishment in Terrapin athletics. In Yow's 12 years at Maryland, the Terrapins have won a remarkable 13 national championships and graduated student-athletes at an enviable rate as Maryland athletics has soared to sustained new heights among the nation's elite intercollegiate athletic programs.

The comprehensive success of Terrapin athletics under Debbie Yow's leadership is a clear and compelling testimony of her values of excellence, teamwork and accountability.

Likewise, her prior election to the presidency of the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics is an indication of the wide respect with which she is regarded among its 6,100 members representing 1,600 colleges and universities in the U.S. and Canada.

She was honored recently by Street and Smith's Sports Business Journal as one of the 20 most influential people in intercollegiate athletics and she has received the Carl Maddox Sport Management Award presented by the United States Sports Academy for excellence in athletics administration.

Dr. Yow was selected to serve on the U.S. Department of Education's Commission on Opportunities in Athletics to review the status of Federal Title IX regulations. She recently served as the chair of the Atlantic Coast Conference Committee on Television. The committee is charged with overseeing the league's TV contracts and dealing with issues related to television. Yow led the committee during the successful renegotiation of comprehensive, multi-year ACC football and basketball contracts with ABC, ESPN, ESPN2 and syndication entities.

Additionally, she has represented intercollegiate athletics with presentations in a number of prominent settings such as the Harvard University School of Law conference on "Shaping the Future of Collegiate Athletics" and the Street and Smith's Sports Business Journal "National Forum on the Direction of Intercollegiate Athletics" in New York. She was also recently inducted into the State of Maryland Women's Hall of Fame and the North Carolina Sports Hall of Fame, joining fellow Terp Buck Williams as honorees.

Yow, who has served on the NCAA Management Council and the NCAA Division I Budget Committee, is a strong and steady voice on behalf of intercollegiate athletics in America.

Since taking over as AD at Maryland in 1994, she and her staff have:

- Transformed Terrapin athletics into a responsive, goal-oriented organization with 27 sports and more than 700 student-athletes.
- Balanced all 12 of the department's annual budgets (none of the budgets were balanced in the 10 years prior to her arrival). The budget has now reached $52 million annually and the multi-million dollar accumulated operating debt which her administration inherited has been eradicated.
- Greatly enhanced the academic support services provided for student-athletes, with an enviable exhausted eligibility graduation rate of approximately 85 percent for student athletes at Maryland.
- Led the Terrapins to a national all-sports ranking in the upper 7 percent of all NCAA Division I institutions.
- Significantly expanded marketing and fund-raising efforts on behalf of Terrapin athletics. As a result, private gifts to athletics have increased over 350 percent and corporate sponsorship revenues have increased by over 300 percent during her tenure at Maryland.
- Continued to dramatically improve venues and facilities for the department's 27 teams. The Comcast Center for men's and women's basketball and other sports that use the facility is a prime example of the dramatic upgrade of athletic facilities.
- Implemented a strategic management model.
- Developed a comprehensive Internet strategy with management, marketing and fund-raising applications.
- Significantly improved customer care in every area of Maryland athletics.

The most recent achievements of Maryland athletics are exceptional:

- Maryland captured a remarkable four national championships during the 2005-06 academic season.
- In 2005-2006, the Terrapins achieved the highest student-athlete graduation rate in history of Maryland athletics.
- Maryland was selected by U.S. News & World Report as one of the Top 20 athle programs in the nation (for overall quality and competitive excellence).
- In 2005-06, Maryland Athletics won the inaugural PRISM Award as the most w managed Division I collegiate athletics program in the nation.
- In men's basketball, the Terps won the Atlantic Coast Conference title over Duke in t championship game in 2004 and won the NCAA National Championship in 2002. Unc Coach Gary Williams, the men's basketball team appeared in 11 consecutive NC. Tournaments.
- Maryland was ranked as the sixth-finest athletic program in the nation by the Laborat for the Study of Intercollegiate Athletics, based on comprehensive criteria such graduation rates, financial efficiency, equity effectiveness and competitive excellence
- Women's basketball won the 2006 NCAA National Championship under head coa Brenda Frese, completing an amazing turnaround that saw the program go from a 10- record to a National Championship in four seasons.
- In football, the Terps won the 2001 Atlantic Coast Conference championship and play in the 2002 Orange Bowl, followed that with an 11-win season and a 30-3 victory ov the University of Tennessee in the Peach Bowl, again followed by a 10-win season a a 41-7 win over West Virginia in the Gator Bowl on New Year's Day 2004. Graduati rates in football are near 80 percent and the program was recently recognized by t American Football Coaches Association for its academic excellence under Coach Ral Friedgen.
- Additionally, Maryland is one of only two universities in the nation to win Natior Championships in men's basketball, women's basketball and football. Stanford is t only other NCAA Division I institution to achieve that mark.
- Set an ACC single-game record for women's basketball attendance by drawing 17,2 to a regular-season game at Comcast Center.
- Hired Dave Cottle, the third-winningest active men's lacrosse coach in the U.S., wh guided his team to the NCAA Final Four three times in the past four seasons.
- Field Hockey earned a National Championship in 2005-06 and has become a perenn participant in the Final Four in that sport.
- Women's Lacrosse has continued its winning ways with seven national championshi from 1995-2001, with additional Final Four appearances.
- Men's Soccer has appeared in four consecutive Final Fours and won the NCAA Nation Championship in the 2005-06 season.
- Football facilities have been significantly enhanced with team house, stadium ar practice field upgrades. The Academic Center was the first improvement, as it to priority over all other initiatives.
- The Terrapins have moved into the new $125 million Comcast Center, housing athlet department offices and seating for 18,000 fans for basketball and other events.
- In 2005-06, 13 Maryland teams competed in postseason play.
- The productivity, morale, and the competitive and academic achievement of Terrap athletics are exceptional and continue to gain momentum.

Regarding the many achievements of Terrapin athletics over the past 12 years, Yo says, "We are pleased, but we are not satisfied... our vision is to be one of the Top programs in the nation consistently... we see no reason to settle for less."

Yow is known for her goal-oriented and proactive management style. She consistent inspires and challenges those around her to "raise our sights and sharpen our tools... work hard and work smart... to recognize that our only limitations are those that w place upon ourselves."

As a manager and a leader, she clearly models these principles. She is the only know current AD in NCAA Division I who has hired both the National Coach of the Year in footba (while at Maryland) and the National Coach of the Year in men's basketball (while at Sai Louis University). In 2002, she brought to the University of Maryland Brenda Frese, wh at that time was the National Coach of the Year in women's basketball. Four years late Frese led the Terrapins to the NCAA National Championship at the Women's Final Fou in Boston.

She has authored numerous articles and books on athletics management and huma behavior, and is a respected leader in intercollegiate athletics in the United States.

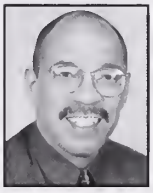
ACADEMIC SUPPORT AND CAREER DEVELOPMENT

The University of Maryland is committed to providing the highest quality education to all of its students. The Department of Intercollegiate Athletics strives to provide student-athletes excellent opportunities to participate in an intercollegiate athletics program of the highest quality, with the result that their athletics participation becomes an integral and valued component of their total educational experience at the university.

Terrapin student-athletes will find that the same hard work and discipline that has earned them success in athletics competition is also required in the classroom. Balancing the significant time demands and responsibilities required to be a successful student-athlete at the highest collegiate level is no small task. Therefore, as a result of their commitment to representing the university through athletics, Terrapin student-athletes are able to utilize support programs designed to meet their specific needs.



Led by associate athletics director Anton Goff, the mission of the Academic Support and Career Development Unit (ASCDU) is to provide quality developmental programs and need-based services that will enhance academic progress, facilitate career development, and encourage the psychosocial growth of all UM student-athletes. Don Pearman (right) works with the volleyball team.

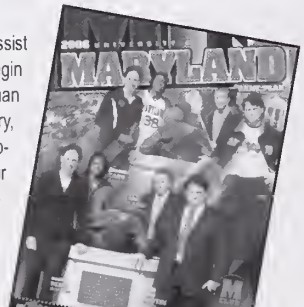
The Gossett Academic Support and Career Development Center for Terrapin student-athletes, named for long-time Terp supporters Barry and Mary Gossett, is located in the Comcast Center. It features a study center that includes 25 desktop computers, a tutoring center, a classroom, a CHAMPS/Life Skills resource room and individual offices for six professional academic counselors, a director of ILP programs, an assistant program coordinator and two graduate assistants. In addition, a new academic wing was added to the Gossett football team house last Fall. It features offices for two counselors, three learning specialist, and a graduate assistant; as well as a quiet study area, 29-desk computer lab, classroom, tutor rooms and classroom/lab for the individualized learning program.

Academic courses, programs and services offered by ASCDU include the following:

- Student-athlete orientation
- Academic counseling
- NCAA academic eligibility monitoring
- Academic enrichment and career development presentations and workshops
- Accredited tutorial support
- Individualized learning program
- EDCP 108-K (College learning strategies and skills)
- EDCP 108-M (Math learning strategies and skills)
- UNIV 100 (First-year transitions to the university)

MARYLAND GAMEPLAN

The Maryland Gameplan is intended to assist graduating Terrapin student-athletes as they begin the job search process. It is distributed to more than 500 corporations and businesses across the country, in addition to being featured on the M Club website. Prospective employers are introduced to our graduating student-athletes with resume information relative to academic, career and personal achievements. The Maryland Gameplan directory is produced annually in collaboration with the M Club.



CAREER NETWORKING NIGHT

Because career development is an ongoing process, ASCDU provides a variety of programs for student-athletes throughout the year. Professional assistance with resume-writing, interviewing skills, graduate school search and job search is readily available to all student-athletes. During the spring semester ASCDU hosts the Career Networking Night, where student-athletes can learn about career interests and career planning. Unlike typical "job fairs," the purpose of this program is to allow student-athletes to explore multiple career opportunities by speaking directly to individuals in their chosen areas of interest. Employers at the Career Networking Night recognize the marketable qualities student-athletes have gained through athletic participation. Student-athletes learn about opportunities for internships and full-time jobs.

STUDENT-ATHLETE ADVISORY COUNCIL

The Student-Athlete Advisory Council (S.A.A.C.) plays an important role in the D partment of Intercollegiate Athletics. It consists of two representatives from each varsi sport and meets on a regular basis with representatives from the athletic administratio The S.A.A.C. mission is to enhance the total student-athlete experience by developi leadership skills, promoting student-athlete welfare and fostering a positive student-athle image on the Maryland campus, local area and nationally.

CHAMPS/LIFE SKILLS PROGRAMS

ASCDU houses the NCAA's (National Collegiate Athletic Association) Challenging Athletes' Minds for Personal Success (C.H.A.M.P.S.) Life Skills Program. The ASCDU staff, in collaboration with various other Department of Intercollegiate Athletics' units and campus resources, strives to provide a systematic personal development program designed to reach each student-athlete based on his or her individual needs. The focus of the program is on the individual academically, athletically and emotionally, and on the changing needs and skills of that individual in the years during college and after graduation. The menu of presentations, workshops and seminars is a comprehensive and balanced system of "life learning" programs promoted fo use by each varsity sport team.

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE CHAMPS/LIFE SKILLS PROGRAMS:

- Support efforts of every student-athlete toward intellectual development and graduation
- Use athletics as preparation for success in life
- Meet the changing needs of student-athletes
- Promote respect for diversity among student-athletes
- Enhance interpersonal relationships in the lives of student-athletes
- Assist student-athletes in building positive self-esteem
- Enable student-athletes to make meaningful contributions to their communities

ACADEMIC SUPPORT FOR RETURNING ATHLETES PROGRAM

The Academic Support for Returning Athletes Program was created in 1986 to sup port the academic efforts of former varsity student-athletes at the University of Maryland College Park. In 1989, ASRAP was assigned by the President's Office to the Academic Achievements Program and enrolled 40 students that year. As a member of the Nationa Consortium for Academics and Sports (NCAS), the University of Maryland is committed to assisting its former athletes with degree completion. A key component of the program is community outreach. Each returning student completes a "workship" that allows the cos of tuition and fees to be exchanged for community services with youth. In 2002, ASRAF moved into the ASCDU.
